Leadership Workshop 2017 (Non-residential)

based on CHANAKYA BUSINESS SUTRA

We hear principles and new ideas of management shared by many Management Gurus. You will agree that many of these principles prevailed since ages in our scriptures.

Chanakya documented his life's labour in the Arthashastra that includes a list of principles to ensure sound governance. It also contains advice on financial management and administration. While a lot of his management principles have been subject to extensive study, his leadership lessons are also more than relevant in today's society.

Based on Chanakya Business Sutra, authored by the learned faculty Shri Mahendra Garodiya, this Leadership Workshop will guide every aspiring leader, viz. professionals, business owners, managers, community worker, or students about how to succeed in today's competitive business environment.

The workshop will enlighten the participants about the Principles of Arthashastra as enunciated in Desh - Kala - Patra (Place - Time - Circumstance) which provide solutions to ten greatest challenges in business using simple formulae in four steps. These steps are Think, Ink, Map, Execute, i.e. (TIME) that cover 14 essential principles of management documented in Chanakya Business Sutras.

The workshop will also enlighten the participants about Anvikshikee, akin to the higher intellect, which in Arthashastra is described as an independent field of investigation.

Takeaways:

Through this workshop, the participants will rediscover this profound knowledge and learn how to apply in the modern times. The workshop will showcase to the participants how to prosper materially in ethical and humanitarian manner and with inner happiness. It will show how prosperity and happiness are not mutually exclusive. The workshop aims to guide the participants to be good leaders in the chosen field including profession, business or social service.

The learned faculty will help the participants to develop individual development programmes and including a detailed schedule of implementing the lessons learned during the workshop.
