POWER UP SUMMIT - REIMAGINING PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

Disruption is the talk of the town – the world that we knew sometime back no longer exists. Everything has changed – the way we buy, the way we watch movies, the way we chat, the way we communicate, the way we take photos.....then, isn't it time, we start thinking of the way we conduct our professional practice? In the fast changing world, will the traditional ways of doing practice survive or suffice?

We, the HDIT Committee of BCAS, invite you to a day long programme, specially curated for those who want to ride the wave of disruption and power-up for an exciting future. When professionals all around are getting anxious about the jobs that will be lost and the practices that will fold-up, let us together have the audacity to think of the opportunities that are getting created and the excitement that is re-energizing the world around us. Let us strategize to thrive, not just survive!!

The programme is designed to stimulate the thought leader in you, excite the entrepreneur in you and recommit the professional in you.

We present herewith a flow of the programme, and some of the questions that are likely to get debated and answered:

◆ Setting the context:

Why “Power-up” is the need of the hour

The programme will start with setting the context for a day of stimulating debates and discussions, sharing of ideas and real-life case studies.

◆ Transforming fears into opportunities

How does one make sense out of changing technology - artificial intelligence, block chain technology, data analytics? How does one deal with the inevitable disruption?

◆ Thinking multiples instead of percentages

How does one identify growth areas? How does one find new partners? How does one expand the team? How does one decide about which geographical areas to expand in?

◆ Converting competitors into allies

How does one join hands with like-minded professionals? How does one initiate merger talks with those very firms that are competing in the marketplace? How does one value another firm's practice? How to fund an acquisition? What are workable models for merger?

◆ Smart robots, smarter people

How does one hire and retain talent? How does one compete with the Big 4 and the next Big 6 in terms of manpower retention? How can one accelerate the learning process within the Firm?

◆ Leadership Matters – Creating an Institution larger than its individuals:

How does one remunerate partners? How does one take care of succession planning so that the organisation outlives the individual? Also, how to take care of retirement benefits of promoters and other partners?

◆ Shareable space, wearable technology and office on the go

How does one leverage knowledge management, training and infrastructure to raise quality, productivity and happiness quotient at work? How does one create a scalable organization at optimum cost and effort? How does one engage with millennial, in a world that belongs to them?

◆ Call to action

The day will end with a clear “call to action” – a toolkit of ideas, initiatives and information that each participant can take home and start working with to set a new direction to their professional practice.

This is an indicative programme outline – indicative, because programmes like this cannot fit into well defined sessions of fixed duration.
