Full Day Seminar on GAAR and Anti-avoidance Provisions

Dear Member,

General Anti-avoidance Rule (GAAR) is a reality now. GAAR has been made effective from 1st April 2017 and recently tax audit report has been amended to include reporting/disclosure of arrangements attracting GAAR. There are serious consequences once GAAR provisions are invoked. GAAR is also recognised in OECD's BEPS programme. There are Anti-avoidance provisions in other laws as well. Tax payers and their advisors need to be updated and abreast about the latest developments in this field. Therefore, the Committee has organised a full day seminar on GAAR and other Anti-avoidance Provisions. The Seminar is uniquely designed with a mix of Panel Discussions and Case Studies Presentations.

A unique publication titled "GAAR [including Other Anti-avoidance provisions] – A Compendium" authored by more than 40 experts will be released on this occasion. Some of the important chapters of the compendium will be introduced by the learned authors in this Seminar.

The copy of the Compendium will be available to all the participants at an attractive price.

• The details of the Seminar are as follows:
